Career.edu™

Advertising your Employer Brand

AcademicTransfer is the job board for masters, PhD students, scientists and academic researchers. We offer the broadest job opening range of universities, university medical centers, research centers and the business sector. Our two main websites, AcademicTransfer.com and Career.edu attract over 200.000 monthly visitors looking for a international job, from early stage researcher and PhD's up to experienced scientists and assistant-/associate-/full professors.

AcademicTransfer has a strong background in improving employer brands. By using a job as a trigger and using employer branding pages for 24/7 recruitment information for your brand. Jobs are distributed through niche-channels in social media, automatically. A job posting on AcademicTransfer is a job posting visible for the research community. Try us.
